New Modes In War

Looking into the possibilities of bacteriological warfare, scientists find America vulnerable because of its very isolation, while European countries would be comparatively safe because disease could not be kept from spreading across boundary lines.

This is a new angle to confuse isolationists. First they held oceans were barriers. Then they conceded they were highways of approach but could be readily blocked. When air warfare came into the picture, they still relied on space as an important safety factor. Now they find that is canceled.

Among the diseases adaptable to large-scale propagation are plague type fevers; anthrax; botulism, which causes strangulation, and many variants of tick-borne typhus-like diseases. Not counted among the 33 bacteriological diseases are the ailments of malnutrition—tuberculosis, rickets, beri-beri, etc. They were concomitants of World War II and they have left a mark on postwar Europe which will not be erased for generations.

The prospect of bacteriological warfare is a dreadful one to contemplate, for it can lay low an entire people rather than only the residents of a target area. But it is the logical extension of scientific war. It is another incentive for mankind to compose its differences lest bacteria inherit the earth.

New Car Prices

Evidence that the National Automobile Dealers Association is concerned about the number of 1947 models on used car lots comes in its advice to dealers to begin advertising local delivered prices of new cars. Dealers also are advised to maintain a continual check of their waiting lists to learn if customers intend keeping vehicles for their own use as well as to prevent duplicate or multiple orders.

The sale of slightly-used late model cars at exorbitant prices is described by the association as "a growing menace to the public and new-car dealers." While there is nothing illegal or disreputable in such sales, the number of 1947 models on used car lots is evidence that some are "getting while the getting's good."

Publicizing of delivered prices would help establish in the public mind the true prices for new cars in comparison with the prices asked by individuals or used-car dealers. It would not remedy the situation but it might make buyers a bit more cautious with their cash.

Names Don't Matter

It was hard to understand the difference between Communists, Fascists and Nazis before World War II. All believed in the same thing—absolute power in politics. All believed, that is, in the doctrine that human beings should be governed by political authority without any limitation. They thought of the people as so many puppets to be manipulated at the pleasure of their masters. They were opposed to the revolutionary notion that people had a right to—and could be trusted to—govern themselves.

What they called themselves then and what they call themselves now didn't matter and doesn't matter. The names used in politics frequently conceal more than they reveal anyway. Hitler and Mussolini called themselves socialists, to conceal what they really were. The men in Russia who call themselves communists are, by their own confession, not communists at all; they are the members of a dictatorship which resembles state capitalism for more than it resembles communism. Even the self-styled "liberals" in the United States are about as far removed from liberalism as they can be. Liberalism—real liberalism—emphasizes individual liberty. It is a revolutionary doctrine, opposed to absolutism of all kinds.

Observers in Italy say many former Fascists are now active among the Italian Communists, who are expected shortly to try to overthrow that country. The information is not surprising. The difference between Communism and Fascism in Italy is the difference between names, nothing else.

Touch-Me-Nots

Newspapermen are grateful to Associate Justice William C. Douglas for his majority opinion favoring three Texas newspapermen appealing their conviction on a charge of contempt of court.

In one place, Justice Douglas wrote: "The law of contempt is not made for the protection of judges who may be sensitive to the winds of public opinion." Newspapermen get fed up and pretty frightened sometimes about touch-me-nots in public office who can't bear a little honest criticism. When judges misuse the power of their office to gag the press—as they try to do very often—it's time to fly storm signals.

Justice Douglas wrote in another place: "Certainly a reporter could not be laid by the heels for contempt because he missed the essential point in a trial or failed to summarize the issues to accord with the views of the judge who sat in the case." Every account of a public proceeding must be written as seen through the eyes of an individual. The press is not infallible, but its mistakes are its own and are subject to judgment by anyone who can prove damage. While appreciating Justice Douglas' realistic reasoning in the court's majority decision, the press reads with misgivings that three members of the court, including the chief justice, dissented.

The Stars Say

BY GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, May 21

While there is benefic opportunity for mending the fortunes, if sound growth and future security are put before some alluring and intriguing openings, nevertheless there is danger that judgement might be set aside for strange and curious experiences or adventures.

Confronted with the latter, there might be temptation to base decisions upon emotional factors, with chaos and confusion complicating exceptional chances for sustained growth. Under the influence of impulsive moods, career, funds and prestige might be sacrificed while concentration of assets, ideas, plans well-organized as to details and for future reference, might bring real progress.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which their sound judgement, practical talents and traits, making for a successful and secure future career and fortunes, may be subject to a flair of the strange, alluring and intriguing, culminating in some perilous crises, in which emotions, impulses, intuitions or curious undercurrents set up conflict or war with sterling, solid and substantial foundations.

Brilliant prospects may be jeopardized by wrong conclusions or impractical decisions. Curb quixotic or temperamental proclivities, for safe and sound programs.

A child born on this day may possess conflicting characteristics with sound principles and aspirations complicated by curious ideas, ideals and impractical urges.

Block Signal System

Rules Flint Traffic

FLINT, Mich. — Northbound traffic on Flint's main street may be moving at a fast clip while southbound cars are at a standstill. Under a newly installed two-block signal system.

Described as the first of its kind in the country, the system works through underground sounding devices which change the color of the lights automatically. Any car traveling more than 25 miles an hour will cause a change in lights, forcing a slowdown or complete stop.

The system was installed on South Saginaw street, where Flint police reported six fatalities last year.

Why Fats Aid Gallbladder

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE gallbladder, which at times causes a lot of trouble, normally acts as a storehouse for bile. During digestion, the gallbladder empties its content into the intestine, where it aids in the digestion of fat.

Gallbladder disease probably occurs for two reasons. One, infection and two, the retention of bile in the bladder.

Eating of Fats The eating of fats is the chief factor in causing the gallbladder to contract and empty itself. And, according to Dr. John A. Boone, of the Medical College of South Carolina, gallbladder disease may well be due to a lack of sufficient fat in the diet. It is really a matter of eating only a reasonable amount of fat. The trouble comes when the patient tries to eliminate all fats from the diet.

In support of these statements, doctors point out that while this disease plagues both sexes, it occurs far more frequently in women and especially in those who have borne children. Many women have replaced fats and oils as a source of energy in the diet with starchy foods and sugars, which will not cause the gallbladder to contract enough.

Diet During Pregnancy Many women during the child-bearing time have been instructed, and rightly so, not to gain excessive amounts of weight. In planning a diet to avoid excessive weight gains the limiting of fats is important but when the fats are almost completely restricted it means that stimulation to emptying of the gallbladder as it should be lacking.

Thus, when gallbladder inflammation has occurred or in order to keep it from developing, it is important to include a reasonable amount of fat in the diet and to avoid overweight by exercise and cutting down of starchy foods and sweets rather than by eliminating fats to too great an extent.

Gallbladder inflammation causes attacks of pain in the right upper part of the abdomen together with sickness to the stomach and vomiting. It is possible sometimes by proper dieting and weight loss to lessen the symptoms to some extent.

However, Dr. Boone believes that operation is usually necessary. Usually the gallbladder is completely removed at operation, though it may only be drained. On the other hand, many other physicians favor medical treatment unless gallstones are present or unless the infection becomes acute with fever and danger that that the gallbladder might rupture or break open.

More important, however, is the avoidance of overweight, the taking of enough exercise and the use of proper diet in order to help keep gallbladder disease from developing in the first place.

Cigaret Shipments To Germany Banned

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Strikes at black market trading, the Army today banned private shipments of American cigarettes and tobacco to Germany effective Monday, May 20.

The action does not affect the supply made available through army post exchanges, which the army said is sufficient to meet "the normal individual needs" of G.I.s and civilian workers.

The ban applies to "the mailing or shipment of these commodities through army post offices, the international mails or commercial channels." Army officials said such shipments are largely in the form of gift packages and that commercial trading is not a factor.

The war department coupled its action with an appeal to the general public for cooperation "in a strong move to wipe out black market trading in American cigarettes and tobacco." It said the order would help stabilize the German economy, adding:

"Friends and relatives of military and civilian personnel serving in the occupied zone were asked to discontinue the mail of tobacco products in gift packages. Those sending such packages to APO's in Germany or to German residents through international mails will be asked to declare the restricted items and will be asked to remove them before packages can be placed in the mails."

Mobile Scale Tests Truck Load Weights

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, May 20.—A mobile scale tester intended to make sure the load of coal or calves you're buying weighs as much as the man says it does has started the rounds of Ohio counties.

Vernon D. Campbell, deputy state sealer of weights and measures, accepted the $10,000 truck-mounted equipment from the makers in Cleveland and put it to work there today.

The gadget is a trolley rigging by which 1,000-pound weights can be lowered from the truck bed to the scale platform. If the weight bar shows 1,000 pounds, the scale is accurate, and, if it doesn't, Campbell issues a warning. A couple of warnings may mean prosecution, Frank Farnsworth, state director of agriculture and state sealer, declared.

Farnsworth said it was planned to check a number of vehicle scales in each county, mainly "the problem cases," so that local sealers of weights and measures would have "standard scales upon which to check-weigh loads and determine the accuracy of other scales by comparative tests."

Farnsworth said possibly 25 to 35 per cent of the vehicle scales in the state were being checked regularly now, but that he hoped the new equipment would bring the figure close to 100 per cent. The present method of testing is the use of 100-pound weights which a man can handle.

Wheel Alignment Axle and Frame Straightening

It takes only a second to drive over this "Cuff Board" and from results shown on the scientific gauges we know just where proper correction is needed.

The purpose of this equipment is to restore cars, that suffer from chassis misalignment trouble, back to the manufacturer's original specifications.

Shimmy, wander, weave, bad steering and excessive tire wear are the results of misalignment. The cause is generally a bent or twisted axle or knee, a bent spindle, a bent tie rod which has resulted from bumps against the curbing, hitting chuck holes in the pavement and minor collisions.

The Bear System by means of scientific gauges tells whether or not the car is out of line and exactly where the trouble lies. Then powerful hydraulic presses remedy the cause.

The effect of steering alignment service with the Bear System are easier steering, economy on tires and a greater degree of safety on the highway.

Coy Buick is offering motorists a free checkup which will continue until further notice.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Complaints are piling up against a racket being worked by some new and second-hand car dealers. New car buyers are the victims. The racket outlined here doesn't mean all new or second-hand dealers are taking part in it. But some seem to be doing so.

It goes like this:
1. A very low trade-in allowance on your old car.
2. Or, with a new car, you must buy costly but unwanted accessories.
3. Or, pay a second-hand dealer far above new car price for a practically new car.
To show what's meant, here's a paragraph from a front page story in the Philadelphia Inquirer yesterday:
"Forced to wait 12 to 16 months for new car deliveries, and some cases victimized on trade-in prices for accessory overloading, businessmen and others who needed automobiles have been driven to the 'curb market' where the cost of 1947 cars ranges from $500 to $1,000 above list prices."

Checking on the problem, the American Automobile Association (AAA) has gathered information from a number of its members around the country.
The AAA is a federation of about 70 motor clubs working for the interest of motorists.

Here's an example of what the AAA found:

A new car buyer ordered accessories costing $36. He got the car with $30 in accessories. It was taken them all, or no car at all.

With all government ceilings on cars wiped out, this is the only restraint on a new car dealer, besides his conscience.

He must sell a new car at the price listed by the manufacturer, or lose his right to handle that make of car.
A tricky dealer can still sell at the price, but add the accessories to boost his profit.

There's no restraint on a used-car dealer. He can charge whatever he can get.

This writer asked the National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) about all this. Its members are new car, not used car, dealers. This was the answer:

"It depends on what you call accessories. A large part of them are put on at the factory. Some accessories possibly are added by the dealers. We have heard this is being done."

"It's a new type of black market. But the NADA has a policy that no customer has to take accessories he doesn't want."

He was asked: "But if a customer doesn't want the accessories, he can't get the car, can he, since other customers will gobble it up?"
The answer: "That's the hell of it. The limit on this sort of thing will be reached only when you can walk in and buy a new car, that is, when new cars are plentiful."

Then this writer called the Automobile Manufacturers Association in Detroit and asked if manufacturers were putting the accessories on the cars. The answer:

"It's far to say that some are; some aren't. It's very difficult to say."

HITLER CONTEMPLATED VICTORY THROUGH SOVIET DOUBLE-CROSS, NAZI FILES SHOW

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Allied historians have found to be "substantially complete" the seized secret files of the Nazi foreign office, including Foreign Minister Ribbentrop's private file and records of Hitler's talks with foreign statesmen.

This was reported today in an announcement that France has agreed to join with the United States and Britain in publishing the record of Nazi Germany's pre-war and wartime foreign policy.

All of the seized German records will be put at the disposal of scholars of the three nations for selection and publication, the State department and British foreign office said jointly.

Anglo-American editors, who have been at work on the selection task for months, already have decided to make public first papers covering the years 1937-1941. They are scheduled to meet with French scholars in Berlin next month to complete editorial plans.

Hitler contemplated the possibility of victory through a double-cross that involved a secret truce with Russia, captured German naval documents disclose.

Eyed Plan in 1943

The documents indicate that Hitler discussed the scheme in the summer of 1943, when it began to appear that Germany might lose the war.

The proposal was that Germany negotiate a secret armistice with Russia. In this way the Soviets would continue to receive American lend-lease aid and Germany would be able to concentrate all her fighting forces in the west.

The documents, made public yesterday in Washington and London, did not make clear whether the proposal ever was submitted to Moscow. The plan was mentioned in the minutes of a conference which Hitler and his commanders held on July 17-18, 1943.

The documents also disclosed that the Nazis plotted the seizure or sinking by submarine of the Italian fleet should Italy declare an armistice with the Allies. They brought to light also that the Germans had a plan to take over Italy even before the Allies invaded Sicily.

Good way to keep a Honey Happy

THINK back to the days when your Buick stood proud, shiny and new at your door. A touch of your toe and that two tons of car romped away gentle as a breeze — and just as obediently glided to a soft, sure stop.

That's the kind of driving that's right in the heart and soul of Buicks. It's there for you to have for years and years — especially when your car gets the kind of care such a honey should have.

That doesn't mean just filling her up and seeing that the oil doesn't get low. Nor a periodic lube job done with "one-kind-for-all" lubricants. It means competent care by men familiar with every part of a Buick — by men who know Buicks best and have an interest in seeing that you get the greatest satisfaction from yours.

Every detail of our service is aimed at this goal. The men are specialists on Buicks.

They work with Buick-designed tools. They're backed up by a parts department stocked with Buick-engineered parts that are just made for Buick cars.

So you see the difference between ordinary service and Buick car care. It's the skillful, considerate care that keeps your Buick always a Buick. It's the kind of care which proves that next to you, we like your Buick best.

TIME TO REPOWER ?

Suppose your Buick is crowding the big figures in high mileage. Suppose you don't want to wait for that new one.

Here's a happy answer.
If your Buick's any model year from 1937 through 1942, you can make it factory-fresh as far as power is concerned with the Buick Power Package.

This is all the major assembly of a new Buick Fireball engine except carburetion and electrical systems. It puts good-as-new zip and performance into high-mileage cars.

Changing over is handled in a single operation—takes less time and often costs less than a really thorough overhaul and replacement job. More satisfaction, too, because you'll have a new factory-built engine.

Easy payments if you wish. Come in and talk it over.

Ted Williams Still Baseball's Most Feared Big Sticker

EVEN SHIFTS FAILING TO HALT REDSOX

Cleveland Staying Right On Trail Of Boston And Detroit

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

American league managers had better devise a "bleacher shift" for Ted Williams.

Trick shifts and all, the Boston Red Sox slugger still is the greatest as well as the most feared batsman in baseball today.

It is doubtful if opposing teams ever ganged up on any player the way they have on Williams. Every time he strides to the plate, they start a troop movement toward the right side of the diamond.

This ruse, first used by Lou Boudreau, Cleveland Indians' manager, and adopted with great success in the last World Series by Eddie Dyer, St. Louis Cardinals' pilot, undoubtedly has robbed Ted of numerous base hits.

Despite that, the colorful fly-chaser, in many respects, has a 330 batting average and his devastating clutch hitting makes him the most valuable player in his circuit.

Of his league leading home run output of nine, four have come in the ninth or extra innings to turn the tide in favor of the Red Sox.

His circuit clout yesterday came with one aboard in the last of the ninth to win the nightcap from the league leading Detroit Tigers 5 to 4 after the Bengals had won the 12-inning opener 3-2.

In defeating the Red Sox in the opener on George Kell's 12th inning double which scored Ed Lake from first, the Tigers handed Dave (Boo) Ferris his first defeat on home grounds in two seasons.

The third place Indians remained hard on the heels of Detroit and Boston by taking a 5-4 decision from the New York Yankees at the Yankee stadium. Hal Peck's seventh inning home run turned out to be the deciding blow.

The Chicago Cubs out-slugged the Brooklyn Dodgers 8-7 at Wrigley field, snapping a five game losing streak.

For the 11th successive game the Washington Senators failed to score more than two runs. They bowed to the Chicago White Sox 4-1. Skeeter Dickey's double with the bases loaded in the 12th accounted for the winning runs.

Catcher Del Rice and First Baseman Stan Musial provided the big blows as the St. Louis Cardinals finally broke the spell left-handed pitchers have held over them by beating the Philadelphia Phils 5 to 3 at St. Louis. Rice hammered his second home run of the season off Southpaw Oscar Judd with one man on in the fifth.

Musial singled in two runs in the sixth and scored on a wild pitch. Howie Schultz accounted for all Philadelphia's runs with a seventh inning home run with two mates aboard.

STEVE GROMEK NOW NO. 1 TRIBE HELP

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Steve Gromek, the erstwhile "forgotten man" of the Cleveland Indians' mound staff, had a new reputation today as the No. 1 fireman in the Red Sox's wigwam.

For the second time in two days, Gromek came to the relief of Indians' hurler yesterday and throttled the threatening New York Yankees as the Tribe copied its second straight victory over the ex-bombers, 5 to 4.

Yankee Castoff Hal Peck hammered a round tripper in the eighth to provide Cleveland's margin of victory.

Rookie Bryan Stephens contributed an acceptable bit of relief hurling to gain credit for his second victory, before Gromek came to his aid in the ninth. Knuckler Roger Wolff started the contest for Cleveland.

The Indians tallied a pair of runs in the second when Eddie Robinson was hit by a pitched ball, Joe Gordon doubled and Ken Keltner lofted a pop single. They got two more in the fifth on George Metkovich's walk, and consecutive singles by Hank Edwards, Manager Lou Boudreau and Robinson.

Homers by Charley Keller and pinch-hitter Frank Colman featured the Yankees' three-run rally in the seventh and eighth.

The Diner Class A softball team of the Salem league will meet the Youngstown General Fireproofing club at the G-F field, Youngstown, at 5:30 p. m. Thursday.

The G-F club laced the Salem Frattilas 14-1 in a Sunday game.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified advertising columns.

Boudreau Out at Third

Umpire Joe Rue is right on top of things as he calls Indians shortstop Lou Boudreau (right) out slid into third in a cloud of dust in the fifth inning at Yankee Stadium. Third baseman Bobby Brown puts the ball on the Tribe manager. Cleveland 5, New York 4. (NEA Telephone)

COPE ANTICIPATES 23 TO 25 TEAMS IN ANNUAL EVENT

Akron East Appears Early Favorite To Capture Title Here

From 23 to 27 teams are expected in the state's largest district high school track meet at Reilly stadium Saturday.

Coach Fred Cope of Salem High made that announcement today, although all entries are not in.

The annual northern Ohio district meet here is considerably larger than any other in Ohio and because of that fact is allowed an extra qualifier in each event.

Leading contender for the district crown this season is Akron East, an outfit with a well-rounded squad which has copped all its meets this season.

Besides East, other Akron schools will include Buchtel, North, West, Central, possibly Hower Vocational, South and Garfield. Barborton, also from that vicinity, will be here, Cope said.

Salem will again compete in the meet with its most prominent area foes: Boardman, Louisville, Canton McKinley, Youngstown Rayen, Struthers, East Palestine, Ravenna, Girard, Warren and Niles.

Newcomers this season probably will include Cuyahoga Falls, Painesville and Mentor.

Canton Lehman is expected to send a small representation.

The event will begin at 8:45 a. m. Saturday with a coaches meeting in the stands at Reilly stadium. Preliminaries will run until noon, with finals expected to get under way about 1 p. m.

Cope anticipates from 250 to 350 athletes in the event. All event winners, down to fifth, will be eligible to compete in the state meet at Columbus the following weekend, Cope said.

Complete details of the meet, including the final entry list, will be published later this week.

Wheeler J. Welday of Steubenville was nominated new district governor yesterday to succeed Robert A. Manchester, II of Canfield. The nomination must be confirmed at the Rotary International convention in San Francisco on July 1.
J. K. Hough was elected president and Harry Houghton, vice president. Both officers are from Akron.
Thomas M. Rose of Birmingham,

England, a director of Rotary International, told the approximately 1,600 delegates last night that it was impossible to calculate the good Rotary had done during the war.
Class distinctions disappeared and neighbors were welded together by a "common bond," Rose asserted.
